Endpoint Security Checklist

1. Antivirus Protection

- Install trusted antivirus software.
- Keep antivirus updated.
- Perform regular system scans.

2. System Updates

- Enable automatic updates.
- Install security patches regularly.

3. Firewall Protection

- Enable Windows Firewall.
- Block unauthorized network connections.

4. Screen Locking

- Set a strong password or PIN.
- Enable automatic screen locking.
- Lock the screen when leaving the computer.

5. Additional Security

- Avoid suspicious links.
- Use strong passwords.
- Avoid unknown USB devices.

Conclusion

Endpoint security protects computers from malware, cyber threats, and unauthorized access.

Interview Questions and Answers

1. What is endpoint security?

Endpoint security protects devices such as laptops and desktops from cyber threats and unauthorized access.

2. What is EDR?

EDR stands for Endpoint Detection and Response. It monitors devices, detects suspicious activities, and helps security teams respond to threats.